

A note from Catalyst:

The historical photos included in this section are graphic and disturbing. We have included them because we believe that it is important to see the reality of the legacy of the international slave trade and the brutality inflicted upon Africans and African Americans by white people in the United States. We believe these images along with the reading can help us understand the degree and depth of that violence. We are providing this note to give you a heads up so that you can be intentional about when and where you view these pictures and how you access support around the emotions that may come up as you look at them.

Photos from the Indian Ocean Slave Trade, retrieved from www.homestead.com

Lynching of Lige Daniels

Circa 1935

Photos taken from binside.typepad.com/binside\_tv/images/2008/01/09/lynch\_2.jpg,
www.johndclare.net/images/Lynching1935.JPG, www.ngbiwm.com